

The water molecules move faster, so they break off sugar molecules faster.